2013 Healthcare Supply Chain Expo

October 21–23, 2013
JW Marriott Washington DC

Join us in the Nation's Capital for the most influential supply chain event of 2013

Together, the Healthcare Supply Chain Association (HSCA) and the Healthcare Industry Supply Chain Institute (HISCI) co-host the Healthcare Supply Chain Expo (formerly the International Expo) to provide supply chain representatives with top-level educational opportunities and one-on-one networking and business-building opportunities. By attending, you will make an investment in the future growth and vitality of your business.

Relevant and timely educational sessions

Get the most up-to-date information on relevant issues affecting your business from experts in the healthcare industry.

Networking with decision-makers

In addition to the great educational opportunities, the Expo includes ample time within the program for you to meet and network with high-level executives.

Plan to join more than 500 group purchasing members and suppliers from investor-owned and not-for-profit corporations, purchasing groups, associations, multi-hospital systems, and healthcare provider alliances for the most influential supply chain event of the year.
